

MONTHLY REPORT - JUNE 2020

Brummer Multi-Strategy (BMS) SEK and Brummer Multi-Strategy 2xL (BMS 2xL) SEK posted returns of 1.49 and 2.80 per cent respectively in June.

US based long/short equity funds Manticore and Black-and-White were the top contributors to BMS, with June proving an alpha-rich environment for both strategies. The Hong Kong based macro fund Arete also contributed positively capitalising on the rise in the price of gold as well as relative value equity positioning. It was also another strong month for L/S credit fund Observatory with idiosyncratic risk the main driver. Fixed income relative value strategy Frost and machine learning strategy Lynx Constellation also had strong months. Exotic market trend follower Florin Court was the month's largest detractor with positioning in power markets accounting for the majority of losses. Systematic equities fund AlphaCrest was down for the month while the trend following strategy Lynx ended the month marginally in the red as gains in equities were offset by losses in foreign exchange positions.

As of July 1st, BMS's portfolio managers only made minor adjustments to the portfolio.
