Brummer Multi-Strategy welcomes Henrik Nyblom

Brummer & Partners recruits technology-focused portfolio manager Henrik Nyblom to run a dedicated investment mandate which initially will be solely for investors in Brummer Multi-Strategy (BMS).

Henrik Nyblom has 25 years' experience as an analyst and portfolio manager in the technology sector. In recent years Nyblom has been the portfolio manager of one of Europe's largest tech funds Swedbank Robur Ny Teknik and has won several awards for his management of the fund.

The new mandate is expected to launch during the spring of 2022. It will be market neutral and take long and short positions in technology companies based in the Nordics and Europe.

"The technology sector is full of not only winners, but also losers. The sector has been boosted by accelerating long-term trends and in coming years there will be many opportunities to identify and distinguish the winning companies from the rest. I look forward to a broader investment toolbox and to benefit from the full extent of my analysis," comments Henrik Nyblom. "Brummer & Partners is an ideal place for what I want to do, not least thanks to the existing infrastructure which will enable me and my team to get up and running quickly and focus on investing. We are extremely excited."

Kerim Celebi, BMS portfolio manager comments, "We believe that there will be many winners and losers within the Nordic / European technology space for a long time to come. Henrik Nyblom has solid experience in this sector and the right skill set to generate alpha over time in many different market scenarios. With his mandate, initially exclusive to BMS investors, Henrik Nyblom will further improve the diversification in BMS's portfolio."

BMS expects an initial allocation of USD 175 million to the new investment mandate.

Brummer & Partners, which this year celebrates its 25-year anniversary, manages USD 15bn. Its asset management activities centre around Brummer Multi-Strategy which aims to generate positive risk-adjusted returns regardless of market environment. To do this a well-balanced portfolio of complementary investment strategies are required that can generate returns regardless of the performance of financial markets. The portfolio is analysed daily and allocation changes are made monthly. New potential teams are evaluated continually. During volatile financial markets, the turnover in underlying strategies can be higher than usual, over the past year some funds have been wound down while several new teams have also joined the group.*
